SCOTS HONOUR MEMORY OF ST. ANDREW

Feasting And Dancing And Skirl O' The Pipes Commemorate Patron Saint Of Scotland

With the skirl o' bagpipes and the songs o' bonnie Scotland re-echoing through the I.O.O.F. Temple, celebration headquarters for expatriated Scots and those whose ancestry dates back to the land of the heather, the memory of St. Andrew, Scotland's Patron Saint, was commemorated by joyous festival last night, when more than two hundred loyal sons and daughters gathered together at a banquet in which Scottish fare was predominant and the immortal haggis was given the honour that is its due. And after the banquet the happy family repaired to the upper dance hall, where the alluring steps that are Scotland's own were interspersed between modern dances.

To tables loaded down with all the good things imaginable, including an abundance of oat cakes, scones, shortbread and haggis—enough of it to deny the traditional thrift of the Scot—came Scots in their kilts, Scots in evening dress—and just Scots. Mayor D. K. Gordon, conspicuous because his knees were covered, occupied place of honour at the head table, and the duties—very light duties they proved to be—of chairman fell upon his shoulders. His chief lieutenant was Mr. Robert MacDonald, who addressed the haggis in eloquent and resonant tones after it had been piped in by Mr. Sandy Mitchell and his cohorts.

Grace was said by Rev. W. W. McPherson, minister of First United Church, but before the pleasant business of eating got under way there was a little ceremony, and a most important one, to be performed. The pipes were heard, and Sandy Mitchell appeared, followed by the haggis bearer, Mr. Jim Ferguson, and two stalwart swordsmen, Messrs. W. Robertson and R. Booth. They marched in proud procession to the head table, where the precious burden was deposited, after which Mr. MacDonald rose and repeated Burns stirring "Address to the Haggis." And any one could see that Mr. MacDonald's heart was in this job which he performed so splendidly.

At the conclusion of the meal—and when the scene left over had been carefully put away—Mayor Gordon rose and proposed "The King," which was responded to in the traditional manner. This over, Mayor Dan launched into a speech—but a speech which was cut short every time His Worship recalled a Scottish story.

Instead of making a speech, the Mayor felt that community singing led by George McKenzie would be more appropriate—besides saving him a lot of work—and there was no time like the present to save something. Mentioning Dougald McDougall, one of the chief organizers, the Mayor was reminded of the time Mr. McDougall came into the store and asked how much he would take for the head of a sheep he saw lying there. Mr. McDougall was informed that the price would be 25 cents.

"I'll take it," said Mr. McDougall, "but cut it off as near the tail as possible."

Speaking seriously, the chairman briefly outlined the legend of the cross of St. Andrew, stating that its reflection was seen in the sky one night before a battle. It survived today as the emblem of Scotland's Patron Saint, St. Andrew.

The end of the year was fast approaching, and the celebration on that evening was in the nature of a "warming up" for Burns' Night, January 25. Scots, he said, "usually figured on a margin," but no decision had been made as to how the funds realized that evening would be distributed. He gave assurance, however, that they would be devoted to the worthy cause of relief.

Called upon by the chairman, George McKenzie led in the singing of a number of popular Scottish airs in which most of those present joined in. The orchestral accompaniment was played by Billy Murray's instrumentalists.

In proposing the toast to "Bonnie Scotland," Mr. R. Mathie blended humor and sincerity admirably. He declared that historically most people knew little about the great St. Andrew, who lived in the first century and who was not adopted by Scotland as the Patron Saint until a thousand years

FISH EXPERT TO STUDY BEAVER LAKE

Possibilities For Fish Culture To Be Investigated

The Kelowna Rod and Gun Club has been informed by Mr. J. A. Motherwell, Chief Supervisor of Fisheries, New Westminster, that arrangements are being made by his Department to place an experienced fish cultural officer in the Beaver Lake area next spring "to determine as far as may be feasible the present and future possibilities for fish cultural operations and to collect as many eggs as may be deemed desirable at that time."

Mr. Motherwell added that next spring's operations would be of a prospecting nature only, and that no definite arrangement had yet been made as to further development. However, the Rod and Gun Club, which has urged some such action, is gratified with the decision of the Department of Fisheries to send an expert to study the possibilities of Beaver Lake, where, it confidently believes, fish cultural work can be carried on most successfully.

The Club's resolution regarding irrigation ditch screens is being looked into further by Mr. Motherwell, who promised to deal with the matter in a later letter.

later. The duties of a saint were intercessory, he said, and it was typical of the Scot's canny nature to wait and see what success St. Andrew had in this line. He added that, in any case, a period of a thousand years must elapse before a saint can be canonized. He regretted, said Mr. Mathie, that he had not visited Scotland in late years in order that he might speak from first-hand knowledge, but he was informed by a native son who had recently returned that the Aberdonians were now using spiders in place of Yo-Yo's!

Concluding his remarks with the assurance that the jokes on Aberdeen were manufactured in a factory in that city and that they were inspected carefully before being let loose—and relating two or three new ones—he ended with a toast which brought the assembly promptly to its feet: "To the land of the purple heather—a land we'll never forget."

In the first place, said Mr. McKenzie in responding, he had been asked to tell how Auld Lang Syne should be sung, and now he found that he was booked to respond to a toast to the land of his forefathers. The proposer regretted that he had not visited Scotland in late years, whereas, he, the responder, had never seen the country at all! Going on to describe in humorous vein the penchant of the butcher to tell the fruit grower how his business should be run, and vice versa, Mr. McKenzie admitted that it might not be unprecedented gall after all to respond, but he decided against it in favour of talking about "Auld Lang Syne," Scotland's national anthem.

"Auld Lang Syne," he said, was known in Scotland before Burns' time, but it was Burns who added the finishing touches, and it was from Burns that he would read the four verses. In it was typified the love and the kindness and the attributes of the Scottish race, and in it was the spirit of St. Andrew. Asking all to rise and sing the first and fourth verses, he pointed out the common mistake of joining hands at the beginning of the song—this should not be done until the verse was reached in which this demonstration of good fellowship was mentioned.

Led by Mr. McKenzie, the gathering rose and joined in this memorable song, the strains of which reverberated through the hall to bring to an end the first part of the evening's programme.

The second part, the dancing, continued until a late hour. In addition to Mr. Mitchell, with his bagpipes, the orchestra, consisting of Mr. Billy Murray, Miss Isobel Murray, Mrs. Davidson and Messrs. Bert Treadgold and Claude Whitehorn, acquitted itself with distinction at a memorable St. Andrew's celebration.

No little credit is due the organizers, the industrious ladies who prepared the dinner and the girls who served it to a most happy and successful function. And so—farewell Scotland: "The broom, the briar, the birken bush Bloom bonnie o'er thy flowing lea, And a' the sweets that aye can wish Frae nature's hand are strew'd on thee."

COAST WINERY DESTROYED BY FIRE

VANCOUVER, Dec. 1.—Fire last night destroyed the Rathburn Winery at Brighouse, with a loss estimated at $15,000.

HUGE QUANTITY OF APPLES YET TO BE SOLD

Domestic Market Must Take 1,267,000 Boxes By April 30th—Difficult Problem

The subjoined statement on the marketing situation for the apple crop was issued on Monday by Major M. V. McGuire, Manager of the 1932 Apple Cartel.

As the final figures on the McIntosh crop are practically complete and a revision of winter estimates has been made, a review of the general marketing situation will be of interest to members.

Shipments to domestic markets	Boxes	%
Shipments to export markets	502,858	41.3
Storage holdings for ultimate export	378,791	31.2
Storage holdings for domestic sale	65,000	5.3
Total McIntosh crop	270,971	22.2

McIntosh Cartel

Shipments to domestic markets	Boxes	%
Shipments to export markets	470,641	18.6
Storage holdings for ultimate export	930,744	37.3
Storage holdings for domestic sale	100,000	4.2
Total McIntosh crop	995,957	39.9

Other Variety Cartel

Shipments to domestic markets	Boxes	%
Shipments to export markets	973,499	26.2
Storage holdings for ultimate export	1,309,535	35.2
Storage holdings for domestic sale	165,000	4.4
Total Other Variety crop	1,266,928	34.2

The above figures are based on the assumption that 10 per cent of the remaining crop of Other Varieties will be exported. In the event of an improvement in the exchange situation this percentage of export would probably increase considerably.

It would therefore appear that we have yet to sell on the domestic market approximately 1,267,000 boxes or 1,689 cars. From the figures at my disposal compiled by the B. C. Shippers Council in 1931, at the same date last year, there were 1,102 cars on hand, or a decrease of 587 from our present holdings.

In view of the above figures it would be well to get some idea of the marketing problem which is ahead of us. Taking the marketing season available as from December 1st to April 30th, a period of five months, it should be reasonably safe to calculate on 110 shipping days. This would mean that at least fifteen cars must be moved every shipping day to insure the marketing of the entire crop.

Taking into consideration the buying power of our domestic market, which probably never before in the history of the fruit industry has been so low, there can be no question but that we are faced with an extremely difficult, though not impossible task.

It would seem that the psychological moment has arrived for every Cartel member to strain his utmost to increase distribution and for Cartel values to be rigidly observed, no matter how great the pressure for reduction.

Buying power is low; the market sensitive; the jobber nervous and dissatisfied. We cannot improve the buying power, but we can get the maximum that can be paid for the crop and the only way we can get the maximum is an immediate stiffening on our values in order to make the jobber feel safe in buying.

SUPREME COURT ALLOWS APPEAL IN BALDWIN CASE

Judgment Restored Which Was Upset By B. C. Court Of Appeal

(The Vancouver Daily Province) Restoring the judgment of the trial judge, Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, the Supreme Court of Canada allowed an appeal of St. George P. Baldwin and his 19-year-old son, Gordon, from British Columbia Court of Appeal.

The appellants' counsel, Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., has been advised from Ottawa that the court, with Justices Rinfret and Lamont dissenting, allowed the appeal, with costs, and restored the trial judgment of $1,086 in favour of the plaintiff father and $2,502 in favour of the son.

Defendant respondents were John W. Bell, farmer, and William Hay, truck driver.

The parties reside at Okanagan Mission, near which place on March 4th, 1930, the boy was injured while driving his father's motor car, which collided with Bell's truck, driven by Hay. Following trial at Vernon and argument in Supreme Court at Vancouver, Mr. Justice McDonald found that Baldwin jr. was one-fourth to blame for the accident.

ANGLICAN BAZAAR YIELDS GRATIFYING RESULTS

Over $1,000 Gross Realized From Sale Of Goods And Amusements

With total gross proceeds approximating the gratifying sum of $1,100, the Anglican Christmas Tree Bazaar, which opened on Friday evening, was brought to a successful close on Saturday evening. Attended by large crowds on both evenings and well patronized on Saturday afternoon, the event was eminently successful from every point of view. The ladies of the Parish Guild, who had worked for months on the manufacture and collection of an interesting variety of useful articles and novelties, and the various other assisting organizations of the church are to be congratulated upon their excellent work.

The Scout Hall, in which the Bazaar was held, was gaily decorated for the occasion in an appropriate colour scheme suggestive of autumn, the effect of which was enhanced by decorative Christmas trees and coloured lights. The various stalls, displaying their wares to the best advantage, were arranged in the centre of the hall, and the popular side-shows, numerous and intriguing, bordered each side of the building.

On Friday and Saturday evenings light refreshments were served by a ladies' committee under Mrs. F. W. Groves, and on Saturday afternoon tea was served by the Okanagan Mission Parish Guild under Mrs. H. C. S. Collett.

The following list of the various stalls, together with the names of those in charge, serves to give some idea of the variety offered: Novelties, fancy work, household linen and handkerchiefs: the Parish Guild; Candies, Mrs. N. B. Loyd; 26-cent Bargains, Mrs. C. E. Davis; Home-Cooking (Friday), Mrs. D. G. Stiell, Benvoulin, and (Saturday) the Rutland Parish Guild; Needlework, the Women's Auxiliary; Tiny Toys, Mrs. J. Cummings; Books and Stationery, Mrs. M. G. Gorrie; Men's Stall, Anglican Men's Club.

The many side-shows included the following: Children's dips (Christmas trees); Miss L. Cowan, of the Sunday School; children's lucky wheel also ice cream donated by the Kelowna Creamery—Mrs. H. G. M. Gardner; shooting gallery, house-housie, racing game, paper circle, treasure island, balloon shy, paper basket, money table and watch guessing; the Anglican Men's Club; dart wheel, lucky envelopes, checker board, lucky basin, shove penny and candle lighting; the Junior Anglican Men's Club. The junior club also conducted a cloak room on the stairway near the entrance.

Included in the articles raffled were a camera, won by Mr. J. Stallard, of Okanagan Mission; a ham, won by Miss Cowan; and a doll's house, won by Brenda Loyd.

Winners in the guessing contests were as follows: Apple guessing contest, Mrs. C. E. Serim; coal guessing contest (half ton of coal donated by Campbell Coal Co.), Mr. Geo. Royle; bean guessing contest (half ton of coal donated by Wm. Haug & Son), Mr. G. W. Hammond; watch guessing contest $10 watch donated by Thomson the Jeweller; Miss D. Clements, Rutland. The watch was wound on Tuesday and did not stop until Wednesday night after having run 36 hours, 54 minutes,

BRITAIN MAKES HUGE PAYMENTS TODAY

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Apart from the vital question of war debts, today is notable in the annals of governmental finance, the government being obliged to pay out $165,000,000 in interest to those holders of war loans at five per cent who would not convert their bonds to a three and one-half per cent basis in the recent conversion operations. Half-yearly war loan interest amounting to $50,000,000 is also to be paid and $140,000,000 in payment of interest on 4 1/2 per cent bonds. On the other hand, the government is to receive $157,000,000 in instalment payments on the new three per cent conversion loan and $140,000,000 on the new two per cent bonds.

Action for $20,000 damages arising out of the death on May 25th last of Major E. B. K. Loyd, of Okanagan Mission, for injuries received in an automobile accident ten days before, has been settled for $4,500, this sum to be paid for the benefit of the 3-year-old daughter of the late Major Loyd, according to a consent judgment signed by Chief Justice Morrison in the Supreme Court Chambers, Vancouver, on Monday.

Mr. E. M. Carruthers acted as executor in behalf of the widow and daughter of deceased. Mr. D. E. McTaggart, as Vancouver agent for Mr. T. G. Norris, K.C., secured His Lordship's approval of the settlement for $4,500 for the little girl.

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL FIRE BRIGADE BALL

Firefighters Stage Outstanding Dance Of The Year

One of the most outstanding social functions of the year, the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade's annual ball, has passed into history. Staged in the Royal Anne Hotel on Thursday evening last, the seventeenth ball enjoyed the marked success which has characterized this event since its inception. Attended by a crowd which taxed the capacity of the Royal Anne ballroom, the programme dance, with a number of extras interspersed, began at 9 o'clock and continued until 2.30 in the morning.

As usual, supper was served by the members of the Brigade, well over three hundred people partaking of the delicacies generously provided by Kelowna housewives. Both dining rooms were used to accommodate the crowd, four long tables being arranged in the large dining room and round tables in the smaller one, but two sittings were required to take care of all.

The decorating in the ballroom and dining rooms was carried out simply but attractively in a floral colour scheme. A feature of the decorations was the Brigade crest, formed by crossed axes and hose nozzle, which had been erected over the arch in front of the orchestra at the north-east corner of the ballroom. The many trophies won by Kelowna firemen in various competitions were also displayed advantageously.

The music, upon the quality of which a great deal depends, was supplied by the Commanders Orchestra, a group of instrumentalists which has earned an enviable reputation in the valley for good dance music. They extended themselves on Thursday evening, contributing largely to the success of the function.

In view of economic conditions and the consequent disinclination of the Brigade to make an appeal at that time, the annual ball was not held in 1931. This year, however, it was felt that the ball should be carried on, and the response of Kelowna housewives in supplying refreshments and the support of the public generally is much appreciated. The Brigade extends thanks to all who assisted in any way.

Foodstuffs left over were collected by the Salvation Army and the Kelowna General Hospital.

STERLING CONTINUES TO RISE AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—British currencies resumed their advance during trading here today. The pound sterling moved up 2 1/2 cents to $3.22 1/2, with speculators in full retreat. The Canadian dollar advanced to 85 1/2 cents.

NO CHANGE IN GOVERNMENT POLICY ON IRRIGATION

VICTORIA, Dec. 1.—Reconsideration of the government's irrigation policy and writing off $1,750,000 borrowings for irrigation purposes prior to 1929 were suggestions made by a delegation of growers and irrigationists who met the cabinet yesterday. The delegation stated that the fruit areas could not meet the commitments entered into in these loans with farm produce at the present low levels of prices. It was suggested that a return should be made to the proposals of the Gaddes report made three years ago, which preceded the report of W. Sanford Evans.

After three hours' discussion, the government reiterated its adherence to its announced policy.

RESEARCH INTO POSSIBILITIES OF APPLES

Mr. T. P. Thornber Urges That Work Be Undertaken At University Of British Columbia

For many years past the fruit industry has been exercised in mind as to utilization of the large quantities of apples that are culled out at the packing houses as below standard for shipment. Appointment by the B. C. Fruit Growers' Association of a special committee to investigate the problem resulted in a quantity of useful data being obtained and was no doubt largely responsible for ultimate development of the movement into the concrete enterprise now engaged in the extraction of fruit juices and manufacture of wines and other products at Kelowna. But such investigations as have been carried on have been chiefly in the hands of laymen and can hardly be termed scientific. They have been concerned almost wholly with the utilization of cull apples for food and beverage purposes, and the vast field of other possible uses has been left untouched. For instance, it is stated that chemists have evolved an excellent polish from apple skins.

Only a few years ago forest trees were regarded as fit for little else than the production of building material or firewood, and the average man would have scoffed at the possibility of their being turned into printing paper, or, much more wonderful, silk stockings. The growth of the rayon industry, one of the marvels of the age, has been compassed within a generation, and it is due solely to the same patient, exhaustive chemical research that has produced such an extraordinary number of useful derivatives from coal, cellulose and other materials.

The annual waste in orchards and at packing houses has caused thinking men to ponder on the possibility of latent usefulness in rejected fruit, perhaps for the production of chemicals or of some product wholly unconnected with food, and with this in view Mr. T. P. Thornber, of Summerland, is seeking to interest municipal councils and other public bodies throughout the Okanagan in a movement to promote thorough scientific investigation of the subject. He has placed the matter before the Summerland and Penticton Councils in the form of the following resolution:

"Whereas the success of the fruit industry is vital to all the communities of the Okanagan Valley;

"And whereas such industry is beset with difficulties of marketing which suggest that other avenues of fruit disposal must be provided;

"And whereas no definite steps have been taken to investigate by chemical research possible methods of utilizing waste fruit, which if found, would thereby reduce the cost of production to the grower;

"Be it resolved that this Municipal Council request the B. C. Government to assist the Okanagan growers to provide facilities at the University of British Columbia (where equipment is available) to conduct experiments along these lines."

The resolution was approved by the Summerland Council, but the Penticton Council, while approving of the proposal that research be undertaken, considered that it was a matter for the Dominion Research Council rather than the University of B. C.

Mr. Thornber, who visited Kelowna on Friday in an effort to secure local support for the proposal and to stimulate interest in it, expressed the opinion, in conversation with the editor of The Courier, that the work could be done to much greater advantage at the University of British Columbia than by the Dominion Research Council, and that any results achieved would be more readily available for the benefit of the fruit industry if worked out here instead of in the East, especially as the material to be experimented upon would be the same as that which would be procurable in quantity from B. C. orchards. He pointed out that, with ample laboratory facilities, available at the University and a trained staff of chemists, besides students engaged on post-graduate work, the investigation need not entail any very heavy outlay, and the expense

BOY SCOUT COLUMN

1st Kelowna Troop

Troop First! Self Last!

Edited by "Pioneer"

30th November, 1932.

Orders for week commencing Friday, the 2nd day of December, 1932:

Duties: Orderly Patrol for week, Wolves; next for duty, Eagles.

Rallies: The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall on Monday, the 5th day of December, 1932, at 7.15 p.m., and the usual basketball practices will be held on Friday, the 2nd of December, commencing at 7 p.m.

What we now wish to urge upon all Scouts is that they will immediately collect as many toys as possible for the Girl Guides' Christmas Toy Shop. Points will be awarded in the Patrol competition for each toy collected by a Scout.

Mr. Maddin of the Empress Theatre has very kindly cooperated with the Toy Shop by naming Saturday, the 10th of December, as the Christmas Toy Shop matinee. Everyone will be admitted to the Theatre that afternoon who brings a toy, in lieu of the price of admission. The toys do not necessarily have to be new ones, but in view of the short time before Christmas we should like to have them with as little repair work required upon them as possible. Very old toys sometimes, however, are very valuable for the reason that parts can be obtained from them to repair others. We should be glad if all Scouts and friends would advertise the fact of this matinee being held, as widely as possible.

The application of Stephen Locke, to join the Troop has been accepted and he has been posted to the Wolf Patrol. We are asking the Cubs to collect toys for the Toy Shop this year as well, and, as there are some forty of them, they should be able to provide a welcome addition to the collection.

There were seven absentees from the Rally on Monday last and the standing of the Patrol competition is now as follows: Eagles, 328; Wolves, 234; Otters, 207; Beavers, 156.

Patrol Leaders are reminded that, if they are absent without leave, they cost their Patrol 10 points. Seconds who are absent without notification to their Patrol Leader cost their Patrols 5 points each. Any Scouts who propose to be absent are expected to notify their Patrol Leaders before the Rally.

Scout Notes Of Interest

Mackay Institute for the Deaf and Dumb now has its Scout Troop. The Troop is sponsored by the Scouts of Trinity Memorial Church Troop.

Two Boy Scouts are among the English boys selected to go to Zlin, Czechoslovakia, for three years' training at the famous Bata Shoe Company's factory.

During the past summer the 9th London Rovers motor-camped over 900 miles in western Ontario. Each Scout of St. Jude's Troop, Saint John, N.B., tramped 105 miles of a 150-mile hiking camp tour, and 12th Regina Scouts travel-camped through the Qu'Appelle Valley.

The famous story of the Dutch boy who prevented a disastrous flood by plugging a hole in a dyke with his finger is recalled by the action of a Boy Scout, John Kirschel, of Southern Rhodesia. While fishing from a bridge over the Gwebi River the lad discovered a widening crack in a concrete pier. He immediately ran and reported, and the bridge was closed, averting probable tragedy. The Scout was highly commended by the Government Road Department.

Some Hefty Trout Captured During Past Week

The big fellows continue to bite in Okanagan Lake.

J. D. Dole, the "Pineapple King," who landed a 14-pounder early last week, decided to try his luck again a few days later. On this second excursion, he hooked a 15-pound beauty and had an interesting tussle before he finally pulled it into the boat.

Using mysterious bait off the Mission wharf, J. S. Davis caught a 14-pound trout on Monday.

Bob Thompson and Leon Gillard made good catches south of Kelowna at the week-end.

Any one who would like to lay in a winter's supply of Manitoba white fish should get in touch with Bill Middleton or Jack Fish at Woods Lake. The shores of the lake are lined with these fish, and they make a very palatable dish either fresh or cured.

A number of parties are out deer hunting. Most hunters are having fairly good luck, but the bucks do not appear to be as easy to find as last year.

WHERE SHIPS ARE TESTED

Many wonderful experiments are carried out at the National Physical Laboratory, Teddington, England, not the least being the testing of model ships. In the laboratory are two huge tanks—really miniature seas. Before a ship is built a wax model is made at the laboratory and put through rigid tests in these tanks. Photo shows the travelling carriage twin wax models attached under test in the Alfred Yarrow tank at the National Physical Laboratory. The travelling carriage becomes, in effect, the bridge of the ship where records are made.

WINFIELD

Mr. John Coc moved down to Penticton on Thursday, Mr. W. J. Coc, Richard and Mrs. J. E. Seaton accompanying him down to help in getting things shipshape.

Mr. Otto Burns was successful in bagging a fine buck while up at Lavington over the week-end.

Mrs. V. R. McDonagh returned home from a visit to Enderby and Grindrod Sunday.

Mrs. Nelson Arnold and Gilbert returned home from the Coast on Saturday.

Alfred Berry and Alex McDonagh were visitors to Mara Friday evening of last week.

Quite a number of the Winfield fruit packers are again busy at the Oyama packing house.

Friends of Mary Williamson will regret to learn of her recent illness, having had to be rushed to the hospital on Sunday. All will wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Petrie and Daisy left for the Coast on Saturday, going by car.

Orchardists are busy working around the trees to ward off the damage by mice. It would appear we are due for an exceptionally bad infestation of this rodent, they having already started girdling the trees. Every one will be well advised to give these pests plenty of attention.

Work on the United Church is well under way, the concrete walls being finished.

"Your car awaits without," said the policeman to the diner in a local cafe. "Without what?" asked the smart diner.

"Lights," said the policeman. "Name and address please."

PENTECOSTAL ASSEMBLY EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Special Meetings By Evangelist John E. Barnes And Party

(Contributed)

Special meetings are being held in the Pentecostal Mission, Lawrence Ave., by Evangelist John E. Barnes and party. It will be recalled that this party opened up the work on 8th of June, 1930, and held a series of meetings which were of great benefit to many people of Kelowna.

Since that date, Evangelist Barnes, who is the Superintendent for British Columbia of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, has opened up churches in Merritt, Kamloops, Cranbrook and Port Alberni, bringing the messages of cheer and also warning, which are seldom brought to the public.

Some wonderful fulfillments of the prophetic utterances made and recorded thousands of years ago, are being enacted before the eyes of the public, and on account of the rush and bustle of this busy world, they are hardly noticed by anyone, yet they portend almost immediate disaster to all those that will live ungodly lives.

Evangelist Barnes does not only very plainly portray the happenings of the political world and point out how prophecy is being carried out to the letter, but also shows by astronomical phenomena, which is extremely interesting and wonderful, that God has the whole plan for the universe clearly mapped out in the skies.

One of his interesting subjects, without a shadow of a doubt nor with any stretch of imagination, reveals to his audience that mysterious advent in the Eastern sky on Saturday June 8, 1918, the great new star of the first magnitude, which blazed out and portended the Second Coming of Christ, as surely as the Star of Bethlehem announced the first coming of our Saviour.

Mr. Barnes deals on the meanings of the sun spots and eclipses and shows how God is using all these signs, according to the Bible, to attempt to

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

(By Barbara B. Brooks)

Many years ago some one sagely remarked that an ounce of prevention was worth a pound of cure. How often, when attacked by a bad cold or indigestion, we search our minds to find how we have erred and wherein we neglected the ounce which would have outweighed the pound.

Colds and indigestion have no real season. They may strike in the best of weather, so it behooves us to take care of ourselves all through the year.

Fortunately, more is known about health protection today than formerly. Scientific research has shown definitely that there is a relation between health and sunshine. Certain "sunshine" foods and drugs have appeared on the market and are used during the winter when the amount of sky shine is limited. This is only one of the ways which are available for cheating Old Man Winter out of his accustomed number of victims.

Another common cause of illness is improper elimination. This can usually be controlled by careful food selection. A diet rich in minerals, vitamins and fibre regulates the digestive processes naturally, and insures complete elimination. Bran has been recognized for years as a laxative food because of its fibre. Now science tells us that it is also a good source of vitamin B, which helps to tone up the intestinal tract and keep it in excellent working order. Whole grain cereals are valuable for the same reasons in proportion to their percentage of fibre and vitamin content. Both bran and whole wheat furnish iron, the mineral essential in preventing secondary anemia.

A simple rule to follow in planning meals will provide the ounce of prevention is to include in every day's menu bran or whole wheat, at least one fruit and at least two vegetables. The bran need not always be eaten as a cereal. It can be baked into muffins, breads, cookies or desserts.

BRAN DATE BARS

3 eggs
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
3/4 cup flour
3/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup all-bran
1 cup nut meats, (chopped)
1/2 cup dates (cut fine)
Beat the eggs until light, add the sugar and beat well. Add the flour, sifted with the baking powder. Add bran, nuts and dates. Spread the mixture in a layer one-half inch thick in a greased shallow pan. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for about 20-30 minutes.

Remove from the oven and while warm, cut into squares or bars. Roll the pieces in powdered sugar or serve as a pudding with whipped cream.
Yield: 24 bars—1" x 3"

BRAN CORN BREAD WITH BACON

2 eggs (beaten slightly)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup bran
1 cup corn meal
1 cup milk
1/4 cup flour
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 pound bacon (diced)
Combine eggs and sugar thoroughly; add all-bran, corn meal and milk. Sift dry ingredients together, add to first mixture and pour into greased baking dish (9x12 inches is a suitable size to use). Sprinkle bacon over top. Bake at 400 degrees F. for twenty minutes, then slip dish under broiler for about three minutes to brown the crust and to crisp the bacon.
Yield: 16 servings.

CRATE FEEDING AND FINISHING POULTRY

In view of the approach of the holiday season, there are three important factors in the crate feeding and proper finishing of poultry which should be brought to notice at this time of the year. These are, How long to feed; how to feed; and what to feed. The poultry feeding authorities of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa supply the following information on these points:

How Long To Feed

Just for how long a period the crate feeding should be continued depends upon the birds and the market. Some birds will stand feeding longer than others. As a rule, it takes at least three weeks to change the texture of the flesh. There may be birds, however, that will not stand more than ten days. These should be taken out just as soon as it is noticed that they are not eating well. Other birds will stand it for four or five weeks, and for a special market it may pay to feed this length of time. But, as a rule, the best gains are made during the first two or three weeks, and many prefer to feed no longer than this time.

How To Feed

In crate feeding poultry one should bear in mind that the primary objective is to raise the quality of the bird into the "Milfed" class grades, for which the highest prices are assured.

Some general facts which should be borne in mind are—

Whole grains should never be fed. All grain feed should be ground as finely as possible.

The feed should be kept palatable and for this purpose a little salt or molasses may be added to the ration. A mixture of grains gives best results, as the birds will not tire of a variety as quickly as they will of one feed.

All feed should be given in a wet state, mixed to the consistency of thin porridge so that it can be poured from a pail or dipped out with a flat ladle or shingle.

The best materials for mixing the dry ingredients of the ration are, in order of relative value: Home-made buttermilk, commercial buttermilk powder or semi-solid buttermilk, sour milk or skim milk.

Better results are obtained when the milk used in mixing is sour, and when feed is mixed one meal ahead.

All ground feeds should have the coarse hulls removed.

What To Feed

The ration used in feeding must be palatable and one which will produce flesh without costing too much. Suitable rations which have been tested by the Poultry Division of the Experimental Farms Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture are—

- 1.—Equal parts of middlings, ground oats and barley.
- 2.—Equal parts of middlings, ground oats and chopped raw potatoes.
- 3.—Equal parts of middlings, ground oats and mashed potatoes.
- 4.—Equal parts of middlings, ground oats and cornmeal.
- 5.—Equal parts of shorts, ground hulls oats or groats, and ground barley.
- 6.—Equal parts of low grade flour, ground barley and ground oats.
- 7.—Equal parts or ground whole wheat, ground whole oats, ground whole barley.
- 8.—Recommended by commercial

OKANAGAN CENTRE

A very good number was in attendance at the annual meeting of the Community Hall Association, held at the Hall last Friday evening.

The board of officers and directors which served last year was re-elected en bloc, viz.: President, J. A. Glead; Vice-President, P. W. Pixton; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Parker; Directors, S. Copeland, E. S. Hare, G. Gibson and H. Macfarlane.

The Treasurer's report showing cash on hand $24.00, with a debit to Mr. J. A. Glead of $50.00, was accepted as read.

Plans for wiping off this debt were discussed and it was finally decided to hold a whist drive at the Hall on the evening of the 12th inst. A committee on arrangements which was appointed includes Mrs. Glead, Mrs. Bernau and Mr. C. Wentworth.

In view of the pronounced success of the several amateur theatricals given in recent years, both socially and financially, Mrs. Bernau was asked to arrange for another one at an early date.

Miss Pamela Gibson returned from school in Victoria last week, expecting to be at home for the remainder of the year.

Mrs. Venables spent several days in Vernon this week, going up on Tuesday.

Messrs. Gibson and Bernau motored to Kamloops on Monday for consultation with the eye specialist.

Miss Dorothy Robertson, of Kaleden, is the guest of Miss Goldie this week.

Magic Baking Powder is used exclusively by the majority of cookery experts, dietitians, and housewives throughout Canada. In fact, Magic outsells all other baking powders combined!

GUILD OF HEALTH

Christ dwelling in us means love dwelling in us; the principle by which Christ lived was the principle of loving; in doing deeds of love; expressed in true selflessness of living. If Christ is dwelling in us, then we shall be taking up our time not in thinking mainly about self but scheming how we can make life more tolerable for other people. If that means expenditure of energy, then thank God for that. What an outlook on life that gives us! This has been withdrawn and that has been withdrawn; "but," we shall say, "I am alive, an inheritor of full life." There are people who want helping, burdens that want lifting. We need never be "unemployed" in Christ's Kingdom. His dwelling in us means that there will follow a life spent in doing good, a life spent in thinking of other people's needs, thinking how we can make life truer, richer, fuller for others. Love in possession means the triumphant principle at work by which He is able to subdue all things unto Himself.

A cheerful man is one who knows it is impossible for things to be as bad as he thinks they are.

A WORTHY CAUSE

It is doubtful if ever in the history of the country have so many appeals been made to the people of Canada to give
of what they have for the needy as at present. The long period of difficult times has reduced many people of all classes to a state of want, and numerous organizations have sprung up throughout the country to grapple with a situation that is unprecedented in its seriousness and acuteness. While only the fortunate few can aid all of the worthy objects that are calling for help,
practically every one who has anything
at all to spare is loyally accepting his responsibility and giving what he can
for the benefit of those who have little or nothing.

At a time like this it is well to bear
in mind the very important fact that tuberculosis causes poverty and poverty causes tuberculosis. The man who is stricken with the disease generally finds himself before long dependent on other people, and the man whom misfortune has hit hard for a time may easily fall a prey to the tubercle bacillus.

The annual appeal to the public to buy Christmas seals, has now been launched. The need for support of the serious work of fighting tuberculosis is greater than ever, for assuredly the disease will be given an impetus by these days of privation for so many people
and will still be a source of danger long years after the business depression has become merely an unpleasant memory.
Aid in the good work by buying as freely as possible the Christmas seals in gay and cheerful colours which the Tranquille Tuberculosis Society is distributing in this province. Their cost is trifling and there is no limit—as few
or as many can be purchased as lies within the means of the buyer. Used on letterheads or envelopes, they convey a timely message of good cheer and
of sympathy and help for fellow men,
especially those who are the victims of disease as well as of financial misfortune.

GODFREY-ISAACS PROPOSALS

The Vernon News published last week "tentative" dates, as set by the Secretary of the B. C. Fruit Growers' Association, for meetings to be held throughout the Okanagan for consideration of the proposals in regard to the fruit industry originally put forward by Mr. D. Godfrey-Isaacs and recently formulated in a summary issued to the press by the special committee to which they were referred by the B. C. F. G. A. In the list of meetings, the one at Kelowna is specified for 7.30 p.m. on Thursday, Dec.
8th, but so far The Courier has had no confirmation of this date, so that it cannot be stated definitely at this time whether the meeting will be held as proposed.

While in thorough agreement with the premise that growers should have more say in the handling of their produce, it may be permissible to point out, pending the free discussion which is sure to be evoked by the series of meetings, that while the proposals are designed for the general good of the fruit industry, they contain the seed of possible disunion and disaster in that they designate the B. C. F. G. A.
as the body which is to take over the
business management of the industry

on behalf of the growers. The summary of the special committee's report answers the question as to how its recommendations are to be put into operation by the following:

"The answer is a Growers Business Association, having the power to act in all matters appertaining to the industry with the notable exception of the actual sale of the product. This function is the exclusive function of the shippers and must not be interfered with or restricted. But the control of the industry itself is the right of the grower and he must exercise it if the industry is to become prosperous. That right of control comes from ownership."

Further on in the summary business
management is defined as "the co-ordination between production and sale,
centralization of effort, the setting, control and operation of the policy under which the industry is to progress, the control of the product itself, the fighting of the battles of the industry."

The committee therefore recommends that "every effort be made to continue the operation of the B.C.F.G.
A., but it should be reorganized so that in the future it has the power to take over the business management as detailed in this report."

Presumably by "control of the industry" is implied, besides other things,
some such arrangement as the Apple Cartel of 1932, which took much negotiation to arrange and, in the end, did not secure the hoped-for adherence of 100 per cent of the industry. If such matters, upon which all growers do not see eye to eye, are to be handled by the reconstituted B.C.F.G.A., there would seem to be little hope of repairing the breach in its structure brought about by differences over the question of marketing. It is very necessary for the good of the industry that the B.C.F.G.A. be placed once more upon its former footing as a powerful and influential body

representing all branches of horticulture and dealing with matters for the general good, such as needed legislation and action in regard to pests, grading, spraying, improvement of varieties,
experimentation, development of markets and protection against unfair competition by dumped imported produce.
On all such questions, co-operative and independent, Cartel and non-Cartel growers can unite in one body to mutual advantage, and there is need to bring these factions together and to heal the wounds of recent years.

Form a Tree Fruit Business Association by all means, if to the advantage of the industry, but do not tinker with the B.C.F.G.A. Let it remain, as it was originally, representative in every way of the whole horticultural industry,
a body concerned with its betterment,
advancement and defence.

REAL VALUES NOT RELATED TO MONEY

An Alberta weekly tells the story of a community supper out in the country,
and in the telling, provides thought
with which we all agree, but sometimes forget:

"Saturday evening the ladies put on a supper and entertainment for the benefit of a Christmas programme. We have heard of hard times, that products of the soil are of no value, but when the ladies took their bountiful
supply of vegetables, fruits and poultry
products; and using their culinary art
upon them, made out of them a repast
of which kings and queens would be delighted to partake, it just shows that the same intrinsic value of these products remain as they ever possessed.

"It being a stormy evening, the programme talent that was expected from outside points never arrived, so that the entertainment also was strictly
home talent, and talent that any village
in the country would be proud to possess. Each number was so well rendered, and the applause so insistent,
that often a second and third encore
was necessary. An appreciative audience always brings out the best there is and helps to develop talent, wit and beauty
in the actors.

"Every community has talent that if properly developed would enrich the home life of that community. The long winter ahead, and the long winter
nights approaching, if used to advantage, will give opportunity for development of music, song and story among the people which hard times cannot stop.

"Throughout every district of the West, this little incident has a counterpart. The good things of the earth are here in greater profusion and at less cost than ever before. Money restriction has stimulated an inventiveness in the way of social activities in every community. Amateur talent, that lay unappreciated in good times, is being developed and encouraged. And best of all, with more simple living, a new neighbourliness springs up. There are many real values which have no connection with money or hard times."
—Ex.

Judge O'Flaherty: "Haven't you
been up before me before?"
Prisoner: "No, y'r honour. Oi niver saw but wan face that looked loike
yours an' that wuz a fotygraph of an

Judge O'Flaherty: "Discharged!

'FLU PANACEA

Everybody knows the symptoms. If you are suffering with cold chills, cold
feet, light head, swelled head, fallen
arches, fallen hair, inferiority complex,
internal depression, kleptomania, colic mania, constipation or a bank over-
draft, you have influenza, my friend.
It is estimated that, if all the influenza victims in the Okanagan Valley went to bed until they were cured—as your physician very wisely commands—
a moratorium would be declared on business and everybody would make money by saving the expense of keeping open in time of depression.

MAC LOOKS AHEAD

MacPherson was to be married.
"I'll be giving us a send-off," he enquired of his best man.
"Aye."
"With old shoes thrown after us?"
"Of course."
"Well, keep in mind—I wear eights
and Maggie takes fives."

B. C. MOST MORAL

Last week we carried a contributed
account of meeting of the W.M.S.
of the United Church at which temperance—or intemperance—was the subject discussed by the erudite members
of that society, who deplored a condition that seriously affected the health of teen age boys and girls in Kelowna
and elsewhere. Habits of intemperance led to "crime, insanity and drunkenness," and "the greatest single contribution to crime" was an economic order which allowed a profit in the production and handling of intoxicating liquor.

The report states that parents are vitally concerned over conditions in our own city, and practical suggestions are offered with the commendable purpose
of keeping susceptible youth treading
the straight and narrow. Some of these suggestions are very good, but others
revert to the age-old practice of glorify-
ing liquor by damning it so heartily.
Youth has to be led tactfully, not driven; too much prohibition in any activity during the adolescence period
inevitably defeats its own end. Boys and girls with no freedom in their own homes seek and find it away from the family hearthside, whereas a tactful tolerance under the parental roof would keep them at home and out of trouble.
I am not the first to preach this sermon
and, I hope, not the last.

I hold a brief for youth because I do not blame our young people for the snares in which they are caught. Adult blundering has done more to drive our young people to the dogs—if, indeed,
they have been driven to the dogs—
than any other one cause. To constantly insist on chaperones, to rigidly supervise all games, is to rob youthful social activity of its fun, consequently the boy or girl is driven to look for pleasure in more hazardous fields.

If I was a parent I would be as much concerned with the moral welfare
of my offspring as the ladies of the W.M.S. or any conscientious parent. I would probably tremble in my shoes
when my son or daughter approached that dangerous age when he wanted to "try out his wings." I would be afraid that those wings would be scorched.
But I would also try to realize that,
by minimizing the glamour of prohibition this and prohibition that, the boy
has a better chance of pulling through unscathed. I would try to avoid converting his home into a cell, aware that

I could not hold him forever in that protection against a very wicked world.
Youth needs to build its defence gradually; the greatest crime of all is to send a boy or girl out into the world without some knowledge, gained by at least a mild experience, of the pitfalls that await the unwarily ignorant.

One of the recognized evils of intemperance—and intemperance is a state
we have to a lesser degree in countries
which have never banned liquor—is its immoral effect. It is therefore interesting to learn that British Columbia,
one of the first provinces to abandon prohibition, from the standpoint of percentage of illegitimate births is the most moral province in Canada, and that Nova Scotia (my native province, incidentally), one of the last to legalize the sale of spirits, is the bad boy of the
lot. Quebec stands next to British Columbia, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, as the most moral province. So it appears that we are either a pretty good people out here in the west or clever enough to hide our devils.

The W.M.S. or any other public-spirited organization that sets out to lead the men of tomorrow along that highway which points to a better and cleaner youth, endeavouring to show
that excessive drinking and its allied evils are pastimes that will eventually demand heavy penalties, is a praiseworthy institution. I submit that I am equally sincere. Only our methods differ.

QUITE FAMILIAR

The kindergarten teacher was telling
the class about the Ten Commandments. To test their memories, she asked:
"Can any one give me a commandment containing only four words?"
A hand was raised immediately.
"Well?" said the teacher.
"Keep off the grass," said the youngster.

AN UNPLEASANT PICTURE

It is damp and chill.
Gathered about the little iron stove
which radiates pitifully inadequate heat,
are three forlorn figures wrapped in
sweaters and overcoats.

One is a woman, prematurely grey.
The others are little under-nourished
children, their faces pinched by the cold.

A man comes in. With a word of greeting, with his lips pursed in a whistle, he drops a bundle on the table,
stirs up the fire, rubs his hands together
and forces a smile.

The children eye the bundle question-
ingly.
"Yep," says the man, "we eat again.
That little job netted me more than I expected. It will keep us going until something else turns up."

The woman watches him wistfully as he unwraps the package. There is a loaf of bread, two cans of soup and a meat pot roast of beef.

The woman rose from her chair and smiled. She found a can opener and a dish.

"Well, John," she said, "we haven't had to go on relief yet. I pity the poor people who have nothing, with winter coming and all. We ought to be thankful that we are more fortunate than they."

The man turned away; coughed and removed his coat.

"Yes," he said.
But he did not look at the children.

This scene might have been laid on your street. It is not an exaggerated picture. Similar scenes are enacted almost daily. But the needy who have seen better days are prohibited by pride
to advertise their condition.

Organized relief reaches many such
people in a tactful way.

RESULTS OF HURRICANE ON ATLANTIC COAST

Looking for all the world like a scene in a tropical city following a disastrous hurricane, Broad Channel, on the edge of Jamaica Bay, Long Island, N.Y., presented the above picture one morning recently after a terrific wind-storm which swept the locality, causing much damage to summer homes, most of which are mounted on stilts. Six of the residences were swept off their foundations and into Jamaica Bay.

WELL-FED SQUIRRELS BECOME IMPROVIDENT

A pair of squirrels in the grounds of Minaki Lodge, an Ontario holiday resort established by the Canadian National Railways, became so accustomed to receiving dainties from visitors during the summer that they failed to lay up a store of nuts for the winter. Their plight being discovered on the seasonal closing of the Lodge, an official of the company took the indigent couple to his home in Montreal, where they will be cared for until they can be returned to Minaki in the spring.

He was a new waiter, and she was a short little woman. After giving her order she tried in vain to settle her toes
comfortably on the restaurant floor.
"And bring me a hassock," she therefore added.

The waiter paused a moment, and
meditatively brushed the tablecloth
with the serviette, and rearranged the glasses and cruet several times, and then got very red in the face.
"Yes, madam," he said at last, "And will you—er—have the hassock broiled
or fried?"

The New York policeman's son was learning music.

"How many beats are there to a bar, Dad?"

"Fancy asking your father that," said
the boy's mother. "If you asked Daddy
how many bars there are to a beat, he might be able to tell you."

Conductor (to young couple on train): "The tunnel we just passed through was two miles long and cost

"HOORAY--A JOB! I'M GLAD I KEPT MY TELEPHONE!"

"Hooray!" shouted Jack,
as he executed a step dance
in the kitchen. "I've got a job! I'm glad I kept my telephone."

No wonder he's happy.
Thanks to his telephone,
he's going back to work.

were considered; but he was

got the job.

RAILWAY TRAVEL SAFEST METHOD OF TRANSPORTATION

Railway travel continues to be the safest method of getting from one point
to another in Canada, according to accident statistics which have been worked out by the various transportation authorities. Canadian railways, which last year carried almost three times as many people on their passenger trains as comprise the total population of the Dominion, established a remarkable safety record. Only three persons out of 26,550,556 passengers were killed
while passengers on a Canadian railroad, thanks to the modern equipment
employed and to the eternal vigilance of Canadian railwaymen and others charged with the safe operation of trains.

According to Canadian National Railways statisticians, the odds are 8,850-185 to 1 against being killed while a passenger on a Canadian railroad train
and 71,953 to 1 against being a victim
of an accident which will cause injury
while a passenger.

An important grain-growing area is being opened up in the vicinity of Vanderhoof, on the main line of the Canadian National Railways, northern British Columbia, and a 30,000-bushel elevator is now being constructed there. The new elevator is being erected by the Gillespie Grain Company, Ltd., elevator operators in the Prairie Provinces, and upon its completion, Vanderhoof will have the distinction of being the only town between Jasper, Alberta, and Prince Rupert, on the Pacific Coast,
with a grain elevator.

Fisher—Blackwood

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Blackwood, Wilson Avenue, on Saturday afternoon, when their daughter, Harriet Eva Blackwood, was united in marriage to Mr. John Mason Fisher, second son of Mr. and Mrs. James Boyd Fisher, of Benvenuto. Rev. W. W. McPherson, minister of First United Church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by only immediate relatives.

The bride looked lovely gowned in eggshell silk crepe with bridal veil and orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a string of cut crystals. She was attended by her sister, Miss Edna M. Blackwood, who was becomingly gowned in glass blue silk crepe and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. The bridegroom was supported by his elder brother, Mr. Gordon Fisher.

Following the serving of a light luncheon, the happy couple left by motor for a short week-end trip, on their return from which they will take up residence at Benvenuto.

Messrs. F. W. Hollinquist and D. MacDonald of the B. C. Fire Underwriters' Association, Vancouver, who have completed their work in connection with the regrading of Kelowna from the fifth to the fourth class, returned to the Coast on Monday by Canadian Pacific. While here they stayed at the Royal Anne Hotel.

The Canadian National passenger service between Kelowna and Kamloops was delayed today owing to the fact that five or six cars of a Canadian Pacific freight train was derailed at Postill early this morning. These cars were put back on the rails before noon, but the C. N. R. passenger train was not expected to reach Kelowna until late this afternoon.

Police have been unable to locate any relatives of the late Mr. Emerson Cornwall Carter, who passed away at the Mayfair Hotel on November 20th. The funeral service, in charge of the Canadian Legion, was held on Tuesday afternoon from the undertaking parlours of the Kelowna Furniture Company to the Kelowna Cemetery, Rev. W. W. McPherson conducting.

The work of testing and analyzing the gas content at Kelowna Oil Well No. 1 is proceeding today and tomorrow, and it is indicated that a very favourable report will be made next week. The difficulties presented by the piece of steel at the bottom of the bore, which caused so much trouble this fall, have been largely overcome. The depth attained to date approximates 2,570 feet.

At the International Hay and Grain Show in Chicago, in which Canada made practically a clean sweep in the hard red spring wheat awards, capturing 80 of the 85 awards and taking the first 65 places before a state exhibit scored, Mr. M. S. Middleton, of Vernon, won first place in the rye class and fourth place in the region one class for barley. Herman Trelle, of Wembley, Alberta, retained his title of International Wheat King.

There was a large attendance of sympathizing friends at the funeral service for the late Mrs. William Sturridge, which was held at First United Church on Friday afternoon, Rev. W. W. McPherson officiating, and beautiful floral tokens gave further evidence of the respect and esteem in which the deceased lady was held. The hymns were No. 599, "O God of Bethel," and No. 470, "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Interment took place at the Kelowna Cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. Galbraith, A. W. Hamilton, W. Lloyd Jones, W. B. M. Calder, W. F. Whiteway and M. J. Curtis.

PLAYLETS BY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Three Excellently Staged Pieces Presented Before Appreciative Audience

Last night a large and highly appreciative audience attended the successful performance of the three one-act playlets produced by the Dramatic Club of the Senior High School in the Junior High School Auditorium, under the able tuition of Miss Ethelwyn Dee, Miss Marie Chapin and Mrs. T. G. S. Chambers.

The opening number was a prettily staged costume play, "Proverbs in Porcelain," in which seven porcelain figures, from three cabinets, came to life and presented three dainty little scenes: "The Ballad of a Made," "The Cap that Fits," and "Secrets of the Heart." The costumes, powdered wigs and panniers, adopted from the famous Sevres china, were very pretty and attractive.

"A Shakespearian Rehearsal," an amusing comedy, followed. "Macbeth" brought up-to-date by a 1932 producer, whose cast clamoured for modern methods. Shakespeare himself was present, bewildered and unable to cope with the suggestions offered. The parts were all well taken.

The concluding number was a "real thriller"—exciting, dramatic, it held the audience from beginning to end in a breathless, tense expectancy. The boys proved themselves seasoned actors. Even the failure of part of the scenery to remain upright disturbed them not a whit. They "put across" the terror of the three crooks, their dread of the priests, who were pursuing them for the ruby stolen from the forehead of their idol, the cunning of the "Toff," who tried to save them from their just reward, and the unforeseen circumstance, the call of the idol, that led them to their death. "Retribution" was the success of the evening, and the actors and directors deserve much credit.

The prologue and epilogue of "Proverbs in Porcelain" featured Barbara Hall and Kay Hill respectively. "The Ballad of a Made" was presented by Becky Gore as the Countess and Erica Willis as the Duke. "The Cap that Fits" was enacted by Joan Adams, as Hortense, Alison Easton, as Armande, and Joan Tilley, as Mlle. Loyale. Jean Higginbotham, as Ninette, and Mary Brydon, as Ninon, told "Secrets of the Heart."

"A Shakespearian Rehearsal" presented the largest cast of the three plays: Stage Manager, Ernest Gibson; Producer, Harry Chaplin; Macbeth, Allan McKenzie; Banquo, Edwin Hunt; Macduff, Ted Hardy; The Doctor, Arthur Lloyd-Jones; Lady Macbeth, Peggy Carey; First Witch, Jennie Ansor; Second Witch, Betty Peck; Third Witch, Sadie Olson.

In "Retribution" the cast was composed as follows: The Toff, Bill Bower; Matey, D'Arze Dendy; Tom, Harold Burr; Albert, George McKay; First Priest, Cecil Moore; Second Priest, Jack Easton; Third Priest, Bill Shugg; The Idol, Douglas Honor.

Music was provided during the evening by Miss K. Guerdard, George Dunn and Jack Treadgold.

Stage management was in the hands of Max McGibbon, Gordon Finch, Jack Madelin, Thurba Cushing and John James.

Costumes were in charge of Eileen Cross, Frances Ennis, Chrissie Burt, Vera Cushing, Barbara Meikle, Diana DeHart and Mary Hughes.

Delicious candy, made under the supervision of Miss Susan Woodworth, was sold by the students.

Mr. A. A. Chapman, Principal of the High School, announced that a competition had been held with the object in view of securing plays written by students. One or two very good plays had been submitted, but there had not been sufficient time to put them into shape for presentation that evening. They might be able to use them in another year, however.

Winner of first prize in the contest, Miss Myrtle McMillan was presented with two books of plays, donated by the staff. A play by Misses Erica Willis and Elaine Truswell was adjudged second best.

THE ANCIENT ART OF PAPER MAKING
Introduction of Paper Into Europe Due To Arabs

The word paper comes from the Egyptian "papyrus," a reed on which the ancients used to write, but it is not from Egypt that we inherit the art of paper making. Paper, as we know it, was first made by the Chinese from the bark of the mulberry tree, and has been traced back to the second century B. C.

In 751 A.D. the Arabs, who held Samarkand, repulsed a Chinese attack on their city and among the prisoners taken were several Chinese skilled in paper making. From these men the Arabs quickly learned the art and it spread rapidly throughout the Moslem world. Numerous Arab documents are in existence today, written in the ninth century on paper made from flax, which grew abundantly in Khorasan.

About the end of the twelfth century, paper making was brought into Greece, Sicily and Spain by the Arabs, who then held these countries. The industry spread to Germany, France, Belgium and Holland during the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, where the mills used old linen rags in the manufacture.

The first English paper maker was John Tate, who set up his mill at Dartford early in the sixteenth century. The first mill in the New World was established in 1690 at Germantown, Pa.

The use of paper has influenced the progress of the world to an extent seldom realized. When paper came into common use, the learning that monks in secluded monasteries had kept alive during the Dark Ages by laborious hand-copying on sheepskin was circulated by printed books. England then entered the Golden Reign of Elizabeth; her adventurers were sailing the high seas, and the modern age of expansion began—"The Keystone."

"WHEN AND HOW WE GOT THE BIBLE"

Winter Theme For Tuesday Prayer Meetings At First United Church

The mid-week prayer meeting at the First United Church will be resumed on Tuesday evening, Dec. 6th, in the Ladies' Parlour. The meetings will begin promptly at 8:00 o'clock and will close at 9:00. The course during the winter will seek to present the story of the Bible in such a way as to interest and satisfy the inquiring minds of the people, and it will seek to give a true view of the nature and worth of Scripture. It is one of the units in the Standard Leadership Training Course of the United Church, and will extend throughout ten periods of one hour each.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested to attend.

RUTLAND

In connection with the holding of "Education Week" throughout the country, the Rutland Superior School extended a special invitation to parents and others interested to attend the School on the afternoon of Friday, Nov. 25th, and observe the classes in session. Some thirty or more parents and others took advantage of the invitation. Visitors were permitted to come and go as they chose from room to room, signing a register in each room visited. No special classes were given but each room carried on its usual programme. At 2:30 p.m. the school was dismissed and the visitors were invited to the Principal's room, where a class was formed and the adults became pupils once more. It had been originally planned to hold three classes in three different rooms, each member of the staff to give a short "lesson" to the classes, three in each of two rooms and two in the Principal's room. As the attendance was not large enough to warrant this, the teachers drew lots and the Principal, (Mr. F. L. Irwin), Miss C. Thompson and Miss E. McDiarmid were the lucky (or was it unlucky?) ones to be chosen.

At the request of the Principal, Miss D. Clement, primary teacher, gave a brief explanation of the lesson that she had intended to give, a reading lesson with "Jack and Jill" as the subject. Miss Thompson then took over the "class" and conducted a lesson in "Phonics." The "pupils" entered into the spirit of the occasion, though they had to be restrained from "speaking out" in class without first asking permission from the teacher. Certain occupants of the back seats had also to be reprimanded for "giggling!"

The next lesson was a chemistry demonstration by the Principal, with "oxygen" as his subject, producing oxygen gas, and later capturing it in glasses by the "downward displacement of water" method. The lesson proved very interesting to most of the "pupils." Owing to the shortness of time left, the third lesson, by Miss McDiarmid, had to be contracted to a brief explanation of the subject of "Silent Reading," a rather new item in the curriculum, the use and purpose of which was not generally understood by parents.

With the conclusion of the class, several local speakers were called upon to give addresses. The first speaker was Mr. Robt. Ritchie, Secretary of the School Board, who stressed the advantage of the young people of today, and, addressing some of the older scholars who were present, urged them to store up all the knowledge they could as it would be of use to them when they went out into the world to take up their life work.

Rev. A. McMillan was the second speaker, and gave an interesting talk on education in a general way, illustrating his points by anecdotes, also recalling to mind and describing some of his school days in Eastern Canada, in a rural school with one teacher conducting a class of 70 or more pupils. In those days, he said, they did not "spare the rod and spoil the child," though they sometimes spoiled both the rod and the child!

Miss A. Dalzell was the next speaker, her subject being the "League of Nations." She urged greater interest in this subject in connection with school work, and gave some of her impressions gained while attending a session of the League at Geneva.

The final speaker was Father Jansen, whose subject was "Cooperation between the Home and the School." He dealt with his topic in a very forceful way and his remarks were directly to the point. He urged parents to support the authority of the teacher by refusing to listen to tales brought home by children. His address was heartily applauded.

Mr. F. L. Irwin, thanked all the speakers for their excellent addresses, on behalf of the school staff and the visitors. It is to be hoped that something of a similar nature be held again next year, at which no doubt there will be a larger attendance than this year.

In place of the usual service at the United Church on Sunday evening last, a pageant entitled "The World for Christ" was given by the two C.G.I.T. groups and some of the Sunday School classes, and was held in connection with the Women's Missionary Society's annual "Thank offering" Sunday. The pageant contained much tuneful music and with interesting dialogue dealing with the arguments "pro and con" on foreign missions interspersed between the songs and choruses. Solos were sung by Myrtle McMillan and Glorin Eutin and a duet by Hilda Still and Beatrice Eutin.

The church was filled to capacity, extra seats being required to accommodate all the congregation.

The annual meeting of the Rutland Hall Society was held in the Community Hall on Tuesday evening, with an attendance of about thirty-five persons. In the absence of both the President, Mr. Ben Hardie, and the Secretary, Mr. J. R. Beale, through illness, the chair was taken by the Vice-President.

HIS FIRST REWARD FOR NEW FLIGHT RECORD

out, Mr. A. E. Harrison, while Miss Betty Harrison acted as secretary. The minutes of the last annual meeting, Trustees' report and the financial statement were all read and adopted. The latter showed a very favourable state of affairs, almost $300.00 being in hand with only about $13.50 in accounts outstanding. The principal items in the receipts were Thanksgiving Day Entertainment, $125.10; Rally Day, June 3rd, (one-third of net proceeds of the day), $64.97; Community Social, $71.13; sundry rentals, $194.53; membership fees (viz. payments by various local organizations for regular use of the hall, these being classed as "corporate membership fees", every member becoming automatically a member in the Hall Society. The payments entitle the societies to the use of the hall on certain nights), $157.00.

Total receipts, including $296.00 in hand at the end of the previous year, were $936.41. In the disbursements the principal were: Janitor's wages $188.25; electric wiring, $126.91; new seating accommodation, $106.66. The total, including many more smaller items, was $637.05, leaving the credit balance previously referred to of $299.56.

The next item on the agenda was the election of the committee of eleven. A resolution was introduced at this juncture, moved by Mr. R. T. Ritchie and seconded by Mr. A. W. Gray, advocating the choosing of the committee in such a manner that as many active organizations as possible be represented. At the suggestion of the chairman, the resolution was changed to a recommendation. The mover and seconder spoke in support of the motion, claiming that a committee so chosen would create a wider community interest in the hall. No definite opposition was expressed to the recommendation, and it was passed without dissent.

Nominations were then proceeded with, resulting in the selection of the following committee by acclamation:—Mrs. C. L. Granger (Women's Association, United Church), Mr. R. B. McLeod (Farmers' Institute), Mr. Robt. Ritchie (School Board), Mr. Earl Hardie (Badminton Society), Mr. A. L. Baldock (Dramatic Society), Mr. A. W. Gray (Athletic Club), Mr. A. E. Harrison (Scout Association), Mrs. R. B. McLeod (Women's Institute), Mrs. T. G. S. Chambers (Girl Guides), and Messrs. J. R. Beale, Secretary-Treasurer, and Ben Hardie, President, as members at large.

No further business of any consequence being presented, the meeting then adjourned. Owing to the absence of the Secretary and President of the old committee, the customary election of officers from amongst the committee was postponed to a later date.

ELLISON

The talk of the district is a community hall. Seeing all the neighbouring districts have them, why cannot Ellison? Why?

Mr. "Joe" Conroy added his name to this year's list of successful sportsmen by bagging a fine buck last Friday.

School is in full swing again, the chickenpox having run its course and died, after a five-week scourge.

Next Friday, December 2nd, the Ellison School will be the scene of the second of the fortnightly entertainments of whist and dancing. The sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Stranaghan, are preparing for even a bigger crowd than last time.

OKANAGAN MISSION

A most regrettable accident occurred on Friday last, when Doreen Parkes fell and broke her leg while running down the steep slope of the bank adjoining Mr. Surtees grounds. Fortunately Dr. Ootmar was at hand with his car, and able to take the child to hospital at once. It is to be hoped that this incident will serve as a warning to other children who are given to racing recklessly down this steep bank.

"Education Week" has been celebrated in Okanagan Mission School from November 21st to 25th. Beginning with the reasons why public money is spent on schools, and why the Government insists on every child receiving an education, the pupils went on to statements as to why they like school, which subjects they like best, and why. During the week they prepared posters expressing their individual ideas of the meaning of education. A news article on "Education in Denmark," by Sir Robert Lynn, was read and discussed, and discussions were also held on the subjects of "The School and Citizenship" and "Education in B. C."

The statement "That the child of the rich man has a greater chance in life than the child of the poor man" was debated for and against. Essays on "The benefits of a good education" were written, and a questionnaire on the subject of the movies asked "Why do you like going to the pictures? What kind of pictures do you like best? and what have you learned from the pictures?"

Towards the end of the week, under the title of "Towards International Understanding," an article was read on the exchange of visits between pupils of English and German schools, and the pupils gave short speeches on "What I would like to do when I leave school."

In the Junior Room the younger children also showed the value of education and gave short speeches on "My first day in school and how I have changed since."

As it is customary in this school for parents and other friends to attend school closing at mid-summer and Christmas, the public were not invited during this week.

Attention is called to the fact that the local Badminton Club opens its season on Friday evening, December 2nd. During the summer, mischievous children have broken the glass in almost every window in the packing house, where the club meets. The windows have been repaired, but parents are warned that prosecution will follow if their children are found damaging this property.

The December meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the house of the President, Mrs. T. Thompson, on Tuesday, December 6th, at 3 o'clock. Miss Vaughan-Jones will speak on "As a traveller saw Germany," and Mrs. H. Hill will give a recitation.

Ten Tips for Success

A SUCCESSFUL Eastern retailer who spends the greater part of his advertising appropriation in newspaper space has made public the following ten points which have helped him to become a prosperous business man through advertising.

1.—I advertise regularly. Every issue of the paper takes my story to its readers.

2.—I make every advertisement look like mine. Years ago I adopted a distinctive style and have stuck to it. I use plenty of white space; my advertisements are never hard to read.

3.—I put into newspaper advertising a definite proportion of my gross sales. I fix it at the beginning of the year. My rule is to make it three per cent of the previous year's gross, with more if special conditions justify it.

4.—I brighten my advertisements with frequent illustrations, either humorous or practical.

5.—I am careful never to over-promise. When I make claims I back them up with reasons. Then when I really have an unusual bargain, people believe me when I "whoop'er up a little."

6.—I think advertising all the time. I buy goods that will advertise well.

7.—I get good display for my advertisements by seeing that the copy is in the newspaper office in plenty of time. I do this by having a definite hour to write the copy.

8.—Whenever possible, I carry goods of national repute, especially those that are advertised in my home paper. I feature them. Sometimes they give me a smaller margin than the wares of smaller concerns, but I find that I sell faster and make more money in the end, besides pleasing more customers.

THE WHOLE GAMUT OF ENTERTAINMENT

Bewildering Variety Of Action, Melody And Beauty In "Girl Crazy"

If variety is the spice of life, RKO Radio Pictures' all-star rollicking comedy "Girl Crazy," which comes to the Empress Theatre on Friday and Saturday, is a snappily seasoned entertainment dish. It offers mirth and melody, romance and action, beauty and atmosphere.

In the cast are comedy stars, a child prodigy, Broadway beauties, Hollywood cowboys, Mexican señoritas, two-gun men and polished villains. The action shifts from city tenement to western dude ranch, from a rip-roaring chase to rhythmic dances and tender love scenes.

Heading the imposing array of talent are the inimitable Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, comedians of extraordinary capabilities. They are supported by Eddie Quillan, little Mitzi Green, Dorothy Lee and many others.

"New Morals For Old"

"New Morals For Old," a drama of modern family life which depicts the conflict between older and younger generations, will be the screen attraction at the theatre on Monday and Tuesday. The cast includes Margaret Perry, who played the feminine lead in the Broadway production "After All," from which the picture was adapted; Robert Young, remembered for his work in recent pictures; Lewis Stone, the veteran who always turns in a good performance; Myrna Loy, famous for her "vamp" roles; Laura Hope Crews, stage star; Jean Hersholt, popular character actor; and numerous others.

"Are You Listening?"

J. P. McEvoy's story of "backstage" life in a radio studio, "Are You Listening?" comes to the theatre on Wednesday and Thursday. The theme is a mixture of "Sally," Irene and Mary," and a misunderstood husband. The latter is played by the irresistible William Haines, who departs from the usual wise cracking American sophisticate and delivers a more sympathetic and serious portrayal of a young man who made only one mistake in life, that of becoming matrimonially obliged to serve and please a nagging wife, played by Karen Morley. Others in the cast are Madge Evans, Anita Page, and Joan Marsh—also Jean Hersholt and Neil Hamilton.

By-Law No. 119, to divert to sewerage purposes $20,000 sanctioned for street improvement, and By-Law No. 120, to borrow an additional $20,000 for sewer construction, both carried when submitted to a vote of the ratepayers on November 27th. The vote on No. 119 was: for, 82; against, 7; spoiled, 3. The figures for No. 120 were: for, 86, against, 4; spoiled, 2.

An advertisement in this issue calls for tenders for the erection of a ten-room school at Kelowna of brick and stone, to be completed not later than August 1st, 1913. The need for additional school accommodation at this time was proportionately as acute as in 1928, when the Junior High School was planned to relieve the situation.

At a municipal meeting on November 21st, attended by about fifty people, the high cost of the sewer construction work, which was far exceeding preliminary estimates, was the subject of strong criticism and much heckling of members of the City Council. The additional expenditure was explained by Mayor J. W. Jones as being due largely to the encountering of quicksand, which had caused much trouble and expense, and of coarse gravel in crossing the bed of Mill Creek. Water had poured in through these loose formations to an extent four times greater than had been reckoned would be the maximum, the flow totalling over 1,200 gallons per minute. Expenditure on the completed main works had exceeded by $32,133 the original estimate of $35,000. To finish the undertaking, the Council would ask the ratepayers to sanction the borrowing of $40,000 in addition to the $35,000 already sanctioned. Upon a show of hands being taken, the meeting endorsed this proposal, although a number abstained from voting.

Amongst the news items it is related that the manager of a Winnipeg insurance office purchased a barrel of Ontario apples from a retail store, paying $5.25 for it. When he opened the barrel he found a letter addressed to the purchaser, reading: "I got 70 cents for this barrel? How much did you pay for it?"

Another news item concerns an optimistic report made by William H. Bunting, an extensive fruit grower of St. Catharines, Ont., who was commissioned by the Dominion government to prepare a report on fruit growing in Canada. In his general conclusions, Mr. Bunting pointed out that, while the growing of fruit offered ample reward for the man of energy, patience and perseverance, there was perhaps no phase of agricultural endeavour which required to be more closely studied and in which a wider range of information was more desirable and necessary. The future of the industry, he stated, was never brighter than it was then, the prospects never more attractive, nor the field of extensive effort in all fruit growing districts more inviting.

VALUABLE POINTS ON FEEDING HOGS

The Swine Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture recommend the following points as valuable in hog feeding:

Grind all grain. Fine grinding is recommended especially for young pigs. Soak meal mixture between meals; do not use too much water but feed as a relatively thick slop.

While there are many different methods of feeding hogs, the use of a good tight trough is safe and reduces waste.

Fresh, clean water should be provided between meals.

Pigs should be fed three times daily for at least one or two weeks after weaning; two feeds daily will then be sufficient.

can make excellent use of green feed. For winter feeding, pigs relish a little fibrous matter to chew and they need it regularly. Give the second cut of clover or alfalfa or any well-cured grass or cereal crop that has been cut green. The desirable effects of feeding a little mangels daily are too well known to need further comment. The important thing is to see that all pigs, except the very young, get some form of vegetable matter regularly.

Pigs that do not have access to earth should have a box of it in their pens. This is as cheap as it is desirable and will be consumed sparingly but regularly. Laying up a supply of sods in the fall provides a good mineral supplement for winter fed pigs.

Make your feeding count with a balanced ration. Where milk in some form is not available, feed tankage as a protein supplement.

BASKETBALL

Win And A Loss Against Wenatchee And Vernon

On Wednesday of last week the local fans were treated to two snappy games, which brought together the Wenatchee "Fillers" and the local Senior aggregation, the result of which was a well earned victory for the B. C. champions 33-18. In the preliminary the Vernon Intermediate A boys just managed to snatch a close 25-22 victory.

Intermediate Encounter In Fast

The first game opened fast with both teams trying the hoops with no result. Vernon opened the scoring after about two minutes of play when Le Blond found the hoop on a foul when Oakes fouled him. With five minutes gone and the score reading 5-0 against them, the locals called for a time-out period after Cochran and LeBlond had each sent the leather through the hoop. McKay replaced McLaren on the local forward line after the pow-wow but the Vernon boys still kept finding the hoop and sent the score up to 9-0 before Hill and Ryan scored on foul shots off Cochran. Openshaw added another for Vernon and Hill again scored on a foul shot off Openshaw. Beech fouled Dean, who counted, and with five minutes to go Vernon called time out with the score reading 12-3 in their favour. Before the half time gong sounded Vernon had added three more points while Hill scored another foul shot when Ogasawara fouled him. The locals were unable to score a field basket during the first twenty minutes but had counted four out of six foul shots.

After the rest period the locals started an assault which they kept up for the entire period and which nearly won them the game. Hill moved back to guard while McKay and McLaren did the forward work. The period had hardly got away before McKay scored the first Kelowna field basket when he banged a rebound shot through the hoop. This same player sent the crowd into a wild uproar when he sank two long shots and Hill gathered a couple of more points on fouls, to bring the score to 18-12 only six points behind their opposition.

Vernon Rally Eventually Proves Decisive

At this point Vernon staged a sharp rally and scored five points without a local point being scored, so the home boys called time out to halt the Vernons. The score now read 23-12 for Vernon with half the period gone. McKay and Hill found the hoop several times and put the locals within striking distance again, making the board read 23-19. The local boys had scored seven points without a reply from the blue and white quintette.

With about three minutes left for play Hill committed his fourth personal foul and had to leave the floor. Oakes went in for him and McLaren scored on a foul but Openshaw cinched the game for Vernon when he sank a long one. Just before the final whistle McKay again found the hoop for the last basket of the game.

Miss Hazel Parkinson has just returned to her home in Toronto after directing the occupational therapy department of the Vancouver General Hospital.

The game was a real tussle, especially in the last half, when the Pheasants staged such a grand rally. McKay was outstanding but all the locals put up a good fight. Openshaw and Ogasawara were the best for the Vernon team.

Wenatchee In Lead At Outset

The feature game appeared a little slow after the fast break-neck speed of the previous game, but it did not take long for the teams to hit a fast pace. Wenatchee went ahead from the first whistle but after the interval the Famous Players started to click and there was little doubt of the final outcome.

A. Kock opened the scoring with a pretty basket soon after the game began, but their lead was short lived as Pettman evened matters when he sank a long shot. G. Meikle fouled A. Kock, who converted his free shot. Kelowna called time out with five minutes gone and Wenatchee leading 3-2. Griffith converted a foul shot when E. Kock fouled him. M. Meikle counted on a rebound shot and Pettman made sure of his shot from underneath. Snowsall went in at centre for M. Meikle. E. Kock counted his free shot when Griffith fouled him, and Wenatchee called time out to take a breather with eight minutes left in the first half to play. After the start Poole fouled A. Kock, who converted. F. Taggart went on for Griffith with four minutes left for play. Jessup found the net twice in quick succession to send the score to 9-7 for the U.S. aggregation. Pettman evened matters soon afterward from under the hoop, but A. Kock and Jessup each counted before the whistle to make the score 13-9 at half time.

Kelowna Soon Reverses Position

After the interval the locals took the upper hand and never once did the Americans strike within striking distance. M. Meikle went back to centre and Griffith also took his place on the forward line. Poole counted his free shot when A. Kock fouled him and Griffith and M. Meikle each counted field baskets to bring the score to 14-13 for the Orchard City. S. Brusch fouled M. Meikle twice and the latter converted both free shots. Griffith worked in close and scored to make the score 18-13 and Wenatchee called time out to try and check the locals' rally. The visitors appeared to be tiring under the terrific pace the locals were setting. S. Brusch had to take

Visiting Vernon Team Meets Defeat Here

On Sunday last, a team from Vernon played a match against a local team on the courts of the Kelowna Badminton Club. Some good games were enjoyed, Kelowna winning the match.

The Vernon players included Carr-Hilton, Kent, Johnstone and Solly. Mesdames Keith, Summers, Frost and Edmunds.

The Kelowna team was composed of Logie, Reel, Loyd, and Wilson, Misses Taylor, Pease, Carruthers and Browne.

to the showers when he committed his fourth personal foul on M. Meikle, who did not convert his chance. Spencer replaced Brusch on the Washington team but the locals still kept on scoring. E. Kock fouled Griffith, who increased the score to 19-13 with his shot. Ludington scored a field goal, also a free shot, but the Meikle brothers each scored one each to make the score 24-16 for the locals and the Wenatchee team seemed to be pretty well tired out as they were unable to get anywhere near the local basket.

Snowsall went in for Griffith and M. Meikle moved to the forward line. Poole and Pettman fouled A. Kock who failed to make his foul shots count. G. Meikle counted a free shot when Jessup fouled him. Pettman counted a rebound shot which increased the locals' lead to 27-16, so the Americans again called time out to see if they could not penetrate the locals' defence, with only four minutes of the game left for play. Snowsall counted twice in quick succession to further increase the lead, but E. Kock found the hoop for Wenatchee for the second field basket of the half for his team. G. Meikle ended the scoring when he made a solo rush and finished with a pretty basket from the side. The Orchard City boys called time out with one minute left for play, but after play commenced there was no more scoring and the gun boomed, leaving the B. C. champions on top, 33-18.

Teams and scores:

Here Come The Munro Furriers

And now come the Munro Furriers from New Westminster on Saturday, December 3rd, who this year are playing Senior A. This will undoubtedly be a knock-out of a game. Many of the fans will remember this team from last season when they played as the Highway Fur team and only lost by a few points to the locals, so this year they will be out to even matters. In the opening game, which will get started at 8.30 sharp, the local Senior girls will take on the Intermediate girls from the United Church.

Spokane "Comets" On December 7th

On Wednesday, December 7th, the local fans will have the finest treat of the season in store for them when the Spokane "Comets" will be seen in action against the local "Famous Players." This will be the biggest game of the year, and will be the first time a Spokane team has ever played on the local floor. Keep these dates in mind: Saturday, December 3rd, for the Munro Furriers, and Wednesday, December 7th, for Spokane. Oh, yes! and keep Boxing Day in your mind for the Big Eskimo Jamboree.

ENVELOPES QUITE A MODERN DEVICE

Cover For Letters Introduced Over A Hundred Years Ago

Envelopes are used in such vast quantities today that few people realize how recently they were invented. An English stationer named Brewer is generally credited with the introduction of envelopes about 1823. Prior to that time, letters intended for mailing were folded in such a way as to conceal the contents and were then sealed with wax. Brewer conceived the idea of cutting the envelopes from sheets with the aid of metal formers. These blanks were then folded and pasted by hand. This method of manufacture was generally practised until about 1850 and is still used for making some special sizes and styles of envelopes.

A machine for making envelopes was invented by De la Rue and Hill in England in 1845, which was capable of a speed of sixty envelopes per minute. Following adoption of the "penny post" system, the envelope industry grew very rapidly. These early envelopes were much smaller than the present day variety and often had the face almost entirely covered with print which expressed sentiments of the sender upon subjects of popular interest. Today the consumption of envelopes runs into billions.

The young son of a radio announcer, being asked to say grace at a family dinner, bowed his head and said in loud clear tones: "This food comes to us through the courtesy of Almighty God."

BANK OF MONTREAL SHOWS MUCH STRENGTH

Liquid Assets Alone Are Equal To 63.46 Per Cent Of All Liabilities To The Public

The Bank of Montreal annual statement shows that the Bank has been able readily to maintain its traditional strong position. The ability to do so, especially under the general conditions that prevailed, will bring a feeling of confidence to the Canadian public and it should at the same time afford a full measure of satisfaction to the many shareholders of the Bank.

With the lessened activity in trade and industry, a number of the accounts show a reduction as compared with the previous year, but in every instance the decrease has been very moderate in view of the conditions which have existed. On the other hand, funds have found employment for the time being very largely in government and other bonds and debentures. At the same time there are substantial additions to reserves in the holdings of cash in the vaults of the Bank and in the Central Gold Reserves.

This development indicates that just as soon as there is a revival in business the Bank will immediately be in a position to take care of the increased requirements of its customers.

In the meantime there will be throughout Canada a reassuring feeling of confidence in the Bank's strong liquid showing.

Large Liquid Assets

The annual statement, which is for the fiscal year to October 31st, and is presented in easily understandable form, appears elsewhere in this issue. It shows total assets of $769,166,272, as compared with $794,523,333 at the end of the previous year. Included among these are quickly available resources of $439,768,506, equal to 63.46 per cent of all liabilities to the public. They are up from $417,406,508 a year ago.

As was to be expected, the principal accounts in the quickly available reserves are represented by government and other bonds and debentures, of a value of $266,729,664 up from $236,433,817 a year ago. Cash on hand and in Central Gold Reserves stands at $84,976,182.

During the period there has been a steady reduction in call loans, with the result that call loans outside of Canada are down to $20,071,135 from $28,252,802, while all call loans in Canada now stand at $5,157,690, against $9,243,921 at the end of the previous year.

higher levels of more active years and now stand at $302,931,269, as compared with $348,525,148 a year ago.

Deposits continue at a healthy level and would seem to indicate a desire on the part of Canadian depositors to maintain ample savings accounts during difficult periods. Total deposits are reported at $648,832,663 and compare with $669,047,251.

A particularly interesting feature of the report is that it shows total assets

Profit and Loss Account

The profit and loss account reflecting the smaller amount of business offering during the year. Total profits were $4,663,100, as compared with $5,386,379 in the previous year. The distributions made from profits were: dividends to shareholders, $3,960,000; provision for taxes Dominion Government, $457,671; reservation for bank premises, $100,000, leaving a balance to be carried forward of $145,429. This amount, added to the balance of $1,103,427 carried forward at the end of the previous year, brought the total balance at the end of the fiscal year to $1,248,856.

The report will be submitted to shareholders at the annual meeting, which will be held at the head office of the Bank in Montreal on Monday, December 5th.

ROTARIANS BESTOW ACADEMICAL DEGREE

Local Merchant Prince Becomes Doctor Of The Duck

Sportsman, merchant, Rotarian and now a D.D.—Doctor of the Duck.

The "honour of the duck" was bestowed upon this local merchant prince by his fellow Rotarians at Tuesday's luncheon. The degree was conferred with due solemnity, for it is a rare one and shared with few—if, indeed, anybody.

It all came about in this way: The sporting goods store proprietor shot a flock of fine, succulent birds and strung them up in front of his place of business. He put them out on Monday morning.

During the lunch hour an unscrupulous wag came along and stuck up this sign in the vicinity of said ducks: "Please take one."

This proved to be one advertisement at least that got quick results, for when Joe—beg pardon—when the merchant returned from lunch nothing but the card remained where once there had been luscious birds.

So when fellow Rotarians handed out the degree of D.D. on Tuesday they presented along with it an inflated rubber duck sporting this neat little sign, "Please take one."

Anyhow, the D.D. knows where there are more ducks.

"Congratulations me, old man. I am going to be married. I have found a beautiful girl and a good housewife." Friend: "But, my dear fellow, bigamy is a criminal offence."
